The First Step.
Perhaps you are run down, can't eat, can't sleep, can't think, can't do anything to your satisfaction, and you wonder what ails you. You should first take the first step in Nervous Prostration. You need a Nerve Tonic and in Electric Bitters you will find the exact remedy for restoring your nervous system to its normal, healthy condition. Surprised? No, it is the use of this Nerve Tonic and Alternative. Your appetite returns, good digestion is restored, and the Liver and Kidneys resume healthy action. Try a bottle. Price 50 cents, at Dr. R. H. Holliday's Drugstore, Clinton, N. C.

Lady of the House (to tramp)—
Poor man, you must have had many trials. Tramp (proudly)—
Yes, ma'am, but no convictions.
—Bostonian.

The New Discovery.
You have heard your friends and neighbors talking about it. You may yourself be one of the many who know from personal experience just how good a thing it is. You have ever tried it. You are one of its staunch friends, because the wonderful thing about it is, that when once given a trial, Dr. King's New Discovery over after holds place in the house. If you have never used it, and should be afflicted with cough, cold or any Throat, Lung or Chest trouble, secure a bottle at once and give it a fair trial. It is guaranteed every time, or money refunded. Trial bottles free at Dr. R. H. Holliday's Drugstore, Clinton, N. C.

Winks—I learn that my old friend, Minks, editor of the Daily Citizen, was found dead in his office this morning. Foul play is suspected.
Jinks—Had he been making many enemies lately?
Winks—No, none at all. He had stopped all sensationalism and was printing a pure, modest, highly moral family paper.
Jinks—Then he has not been murdered. He has simply starved to death.—Life.

No. 51.

THE EDITOR'S CHAIR.

HOW THINGS LOOK FROM OUR STAND POINT.

The Opinion of The Editor and the Opinion of Others which we Can Endorse on the Various Topics of the Day.

England is reforming. It had two burly biffers locked up last week for prize fighting.

Poor Ireland! Her potato crop is a failure and she is threatened with another famine rivaling that of 1847.

The Augusta Chronicle says: So far fourteen Alliance candidates have been nominated for Congress in the South. Four of these are from Georgia.

The total population of the United States, as shown by the Eleventh Census, is a trifle over sixty-four millions. The wealth of the country has increased to $60,000,000,000 as against $10,000,000,000 ten years ago.

The new Constitution of Mississippi says: Every qualified elector shall be able to read any section of the Constitution of this State, or he shall be able to understand the same when read to him, or give a reasonable interpretation thereof and shall have paid his poll tax for the preceding year.

Rev. Tom Dixon's congregation has grown so large that he now preaches in Association Hall on 22d and 4th Avenue, instead of occupying the pulpit in 23d Street Baptist Church. The New Yorkers like Mr. Dixon and will, no doubt, soon build him a Tabernacle where he will have as large congregations as Dr. Talmage has in Brooklyn.

The most present Republican Congress has done was to pass bills appropriating four hundred millions of dollars; to add fifty millions of dollars annually to the pension list; and create over a thousand new offices. A fine record, indeed! Uncle Sam's pockets have been emptied and if he is let in the hands of the Republicans he will soon be a beggar.

Old General Early has not lost all his vigor yet. When he heard of the passage of the act of Congress against the Louisiana Lottery, of which he is a commissioner, he celebrated by getting gloriously drunk. A policeman attempted to take him in tow, but got demolished by the raging General and had to call several other cops to his assistance before the old man of war could be taken along.

Mr. Eugene C. Beddingfield, Secretary of the State Farmers' Alliance, in an address before the Convention of Democratic Clubs in Raleigh last week, pledged to Senator Vance the hearty support of the Alliance. He said the Alliance was composed of the flower of the Democracy of the State, and in their name he wished to thank those outside of the order who had worked so faithfully for the Democracy's success. He declared that the Alliance was incorporated for the sole purpose of educating and elevating the masses. This should satisfy those who are apprehensive that the Alliance is seeking to defeat Senator Vance.

The Charleston News and Courier opposed Capt. Tillman for Governor of South Carolina, but after the nomination was made stands by him, and the Cincinnati Commercial Gazette taunts the News and Courier with "sitting beside the dark waters of sorrow munching the Tillman crow." The News and Courier replies most happily:

As we may have remarked before, we should not select crow for a steady diet; but when it comes to choice between Democratic crow—and a white one at that—on the one hand, and the regulation high old Republican buzzard on the other, we shall always go for the home bird with all the appetite we can muster.

More land is owned in the United States by aliens than many suppose. The following is a list of some of the largest alien landowners:

The Marquis of Tweeddale owns 1,750,000 acres; Sir Edward Reid, land, 425,000 acres; Lord Houghton, 60,000 acres; Lord Darnley, 60,000 acres; Phillips, Marshall & Co., of London, 1,500,000 acres; Benj. Newgas, of Liverpool, 100,000 acres.

The Farmers' Alliance may well call for a halt in this menace to our country's welfare. Alien ownership of land is responsible, to a great extent, for Ireland's woe to-day.

THE DEMOCRATIC CLUBS.

They Have a Glorious Meeting and all go Home with the Resolve that Democracy shall Win.

(Condensed from the State Chronicle.)
Mr. J. S. Carr, president of the Association of Democratic Clubs, called the Convention to order.
President Carr said:

After having taken the matter before the Executive Committee of this Association, and having advised with the chairman of the Executive Committee of the Democratic party in North Carolina, I have deemed it advisable to call you together in convention.

The fight between the two parties in this State has now begun. It has been said "Old men for council and young men for war." We accept that faithful proverb, and offer our services, and are ready to work for the cause of our country.

Gov. Fowle delivered the address of welcome, which was a gem of patriotic eloquence. Among other things the Governor said:

The triumph of Democracy is the triumph of economy and good government. Why, what is it, my friends, that North Carolina does not owe to the triumph of Democratic party? Look around you—which is the party of progress? Which party built the school houses and the agricultural college, and if allowed to remain in power will increase the appropriation for the education of the boys and girls of North Carolina. Our State finances, under the State Democratic administration, are in excellent condition. Our State Penitentiary is no longer an expense, but now has $35,000 of its credit, under good management, it has made over and above expenses.

Duncan E. McIver, of Moore county, was elected permanent chairman and the following Vice-Presidents were elected:

1st District, W. B. Shaw.
2nd " Dr. W. T. Chestnut.
3rd " Marion Butler.
4th " J. W. Poir, Jr.
5th " J. I. King.
6th " J. R. Robertson.
7th " Hal M. Worth.
8th " R. N. Hackett.
9th " W. W. Zachary.

For Permanent Secretary, Robt. Hayden, of Charlotte, and for Assistant Secretary, the members of the Democratic party.

Ringing speeches were made by Messrs. R. N. Hackett (who responded to Gov. Fowle's address of welcome), C. H. Aycock, Duncan E. McIver, J. H. Hunt, Governor Holt, Hon. "Buck" Kitchen and Eugene Beddingfield, Secretary of the State Farmers' Alliance. Mr. Beddingfield said Senator Vance was the choice of the Alliance and pledged the support of that great order for the re-election of Senator Vance, "four-fifths of whose life work," he said, "has been in the interest of the farmers of our country."

Calls for Senator Vance were made and a committee was sent to bring him into the Convention. When the venerable statesman entered the hall, cheer after cheer greeted him. He made a short but patriotic address and at its conclusion prolonged cheers went up for this great defender of the people's rights.

At Stronach's warehouse Wednesday night brief and spicy talks were made by Messrs. C. B. Aycock, Theo. Klett, R. B. Glenn, Auditor Sanderlin, Preston Parr, W. B. Henry, E. W. Pough and Hon. W. H. Green. Mr. Marion Butler, Sampson's Democratic nominee for the Senate, who was presiding, said he wanted to endorse what Mr. Henry had said about Senator Vance. The farmers are for him. Sampson was the strongest Alliance county in the State, and it would send three men to the Legislature to vote for him.

On Thursday there was a grand barbecue, and speaking at Brookside Park. Senator Vance made the speech of the day. We give a few extracts:

"The farmers' movement was necessary. When bad men combine good men must associate or go to the wall. Ever since the close of the war all legislation has been directed at the expense of the masses. All of the legislation for twenty years has been the interest of bankers, corporations, and the manufacturers, and the people have nothing to say but to pay the tax. How does it happen that the Goulds and the Vanderbilts and others build marble palaces and own all the banks, while the land from which our bread comes, and the people who pray, 'Give us this day our daily bread,' are poor and in debt. It is because the Republican Congress have made friends of the mammon of unrighteousness. Millions of dollars go into the hands of Quay—a criminal who buys newspapers and floods the land with literature that is to teach that you are benefited by the go to hell. He teaches that the higher tax you pay the richer you become. In this way—out of the money of the beneficiaries by the tariff—the people are corrupted and elect' are carried by the Republicans.

There is no demand, except one, for the Farmers' Alliance which is not a conditional principle of the Democracy. Let us stand together. St. Paul, when shipwrecked, told his terrified fellow-travelers: 'Except ye abide in the ship ye cannot be saved.' Unless ye abide in the Democratic party and seek relief under its banners ye cannot get the relief needed.

Able talks were also made by Hons. B. H. Bunn and W. H. Kitchen. The Convention was a great Democratic Love Feast and its great effects will be felt in the approaching elections.

"Happy I may not call this until I learn that thy life has been happily ended."

This colloquy young Mr. Henry Henshall was holding in the drawing room of the great hotel in New York. The New York Central train was speeding him on and on, to which fact he was not attending.

He had secured the forward section to escape observation. He sat with his back to the passengers. Himself was companionably alone. He desired only to think and to dream.

He had but a few days since put Columbia college, so to speak, among his stock of reminiscences, with her highest honors in his trunk.

He had mentally given over his father's great manufacturing interests, which invited him to take immediate possession and give the aged sire his desired retirement, to the devil and the deep blue sea.

As he loved his ideal best, his art, the devil take what was hindmost. The ideal was now his quest; art he could achieve between times. It was of her he dreamed—his ideal.

As he gazed, gazing at the end of the car, deep in the contemplation of this yet unseen but ever clearly outlined ideal girl, with all the glamour of youth, the words of the great Solon to evildoers came back to him: "I have been looking for you so long."

"Oh, certainly, if you wish," she interrupted. "But then I am so thirsty, you know."

He stared through the dim light at the lights within the drawing room went out; the group had retired.

"And so am I," the man said wearily. "I was never so thirsty in my life."

"Then I advise you to take a drink," retorted the girl with a laugh, and she advanced to the door of the car.

"It is not for water I am craving," murmured the wretched man; but if she heard him she gave no sign of it.

He watched her move down the aisle and into the drawing room at the other end of the car. The reason of his inability to see her among the passengers was now evident. But how could her image be reflected in the mirror in front of him?

His eye caught a quick solution. The transom over the door of the drawing room was open. Some mirror on the inside reflected the images of the people in the car over his head.

Now he recognized other people in the drawing room also reflected in the mirror.

There was an old man with a sober, dissatisfied face who looked as if he might be a disciple of Henry George, and a woman with a just then unreadable countenance, who might be the ideal's instructress in music or other studies, or her governess, perhaps; lastly, the face of a younger man, say 35 years, that he saw in the mirror, malicious, enviously and other characteristics which denoted a shrewd schemer and perhaps a villainous nature.

Was she traveling in security with an aged, absorbed parent and trusted friends, or was her father, if such he be, oblivious to the machinations of a villain, who had an accomplice in the supposed governess?

He resolved to probe this mystery to the bottom, if he had to travel around the earth to do it; if he had to employ detectives, had to squander his whole fortune.

"Dear man! He little knew how much of his contemplation was to be realized in his future existence.

Alarmed by the workings of his brain he suddenly resolved to paint the group as they appeared in the mirror.

He raised the curtain near him to increase the effect of the scene in the mirror, but it only dulled out the picture and he drew it down.

From his valise he took a palette, his paints and brushes and a small square of canvas with a heavy pastboard back designed for use in the absence of an easel.

He began sketching on his ideal. It was a joyous task, so much so that his whole soul became concentrated in the work, and the lines in which he drew the lovely face rapidly grew into a facsimile of life.

Of course the best he could do during the remainder of the day was to prepare studies for more finished paintings later.

Still he lingered long and lovingly on the face of his ideal until the study, under the intensity of his love and longing, became not a bad picture.

The day gradually lengthened until he recognized that he must turn his attention to the others of the group or miss them by nightfall.

They might get off at some destination far from New York. He must hasten. With feverish anxiety, intensified by the thought of her possible escape from him, he put away the palette and took to his pencil.

By nightfall he had sketched the group, so that all its characters might be recognized by the detectives who he already purposed putting on the case if he should miss them.

Mr. Henshall concluded that in the dining car at dinner he should have the pleasure of sitting at the table next to the group. To his utter disappointment dinner was served to the party in the seclusion of the drawing room.

He entered the dining car on the last

DEMOCRATIC NOMINEES.

For Congress—3rd District,
JENAMIN F. GRADY, Jr.

For Judge—6th District,
EDWIN T. BOYKIN.

For Solicitor—6th District,
OLIVER H. ALLEN.

CLINTON, N. C., OCT. 2, 1890.

The A. & M. College has enrolled 74 students so far this term.

Congress adjourned yesterday and the whole country has drawn a great sigh of relief.

The Harnett Courier has successfully passed another milestone of the perilous journalistic life of a North Carolina newspaper. We wish it a long, prosperous and useful life.

The Fayetteville Observer says that Rev. L. C. Vass could not accept the appointment of Evangelist for Fayetteville Presbytery and Rev. W. E. Pell of Wilson has been selected to fill that place.

The Rev. Sam Jones is drawing immense crowds to hear him this week in Wilmington. He speaks his mind to the Wilmingtonians as he does to all other people. The meetings will probably close next Sunday night. Much has been added to them by the excellent music furnished by Prof. Excell's choir of more than two hundred persons.

The State Chronicle in referring to the meeting of Democratic Clubs in Raleigh last week says:

It was such a convention as delighted and thrilled every patriotic man who looked upon it. There was nothing "spotted" about it. Evidence of ignorance, boodles, prejudice and selfishness were totally absent. The body was not characterized by any taint of "coffee-planting" proclivities. It was a body of intelligence—the incarnation of intellect and noble patriotism. Most of the delegates were young men, and all of the delegates were here for the purpose of doing everything possible to preserve the good government and integrity of the State, and they were instigated to this work by the purest patriotism and not by the hope of reward in the way of winning votes or stepping into political offices.

A prominent negro politician in Arkansas, who has been a life long Republican, has withdrawn from that party and come over to the Democrats. He gives his reason for doing so as follows:

"The interest of the races in the South are identical. The Republican party has promised us everything and given us nothing. We have fought our neighbors long enough. Democracy may not give us anything, but when we vote that ticket we will have the consolation of knowing we are standing by our personal friends."

There is gospel truth in this and the negroes all over the South are finding it out.

JUDGE BOYKIN ILL.

The News and Observer of Tuesday says: Owing to the continued severe illness of Judge E. T. Boykin, when Wake Superior Court re-assembled yesterday morning, it was announced that it would be utterly impossible for him to preside this week, and court was, therefore, adjourned for the term. The Hogue homicide case and all other undried cases, therefore, go over till the next criminal term of court.

Judge Boykin's physician in a conversation with the News and Observer yesterday said: Judge Boykin is still confined to his bed with malarial fever, and although his fever has somewhat abated and he is free from dangerous symptoms, he is too unwell to resume his duties on the bench for the present, and court has been adjourned for this term on account of his illness.

Duty ought never to wait on feeling; but feeling ought always to wait on duty. A man ought never to pivot his duty on his feelings; but every man ought to conform his feelings to the demands of duty. Kind speech is a duty, whether a man feels kindly or not. But kindly feelings are always a duty, and he who lacks them ought to set himself at acquiring them. Not feeling, but duty, must lead a man's course; but a man's right feeling is included in his every-day duty.—Ex.

Vance is Coming

TO THE SAMPTON FAIR.

Two Governors and Other Distinguished Speakers will be Here.

At a recent meeting of the Executive Committee of the Sampson County Agricultural Society, a committee consisting of Capt. Wm. A. Johnson, D. B. Nicholson, Esq., and this writer was appointed to invite speakers for the Sampson Fair of 1890. On behalf of the committee, when we were in Raleigh last week attending the Convention of Democratic Clubs, we saw Senator Vance in person. He hesitated, saying that his time was at the command of the Democratic party and that he should speak where it was most needed. We assured him that it was not necessary for him to come to Sampson to make it right, but that he should come because it was right, and that the Fair would not be held till, after the election, the last week in November. The venerable Senator hesitated no longer, and said, "Then tell the good people of Sampson that I will be there." When we saw Gov. Fowle, he said that, remembering so pleasantly his trip to the last Sampson Fair, that he could not refuse an invitation to go again. He told us that every time he saw Gov. Lee that he (Lee) spoke of hospitable Sampson and how he enjoyed his trip to our fair, more than any other he had ever attended. The names of the other distinguished speakers will be announced before long.

The Sampson Fair for 1890 will eclipse the record.

CHURCH CEMETERIES.

There is something sad to us in the Eastern custom of burying the dead in little family grave yards and not at the church. It is no infrequent thing to see these little family burying places with half a dozen graves all neglected and oftentimes exposed to the roaming cattle, sometimes the friends have sold the home and moved away and strangers neither know nor care who lies beneath the sod of what is now their corn and cotton fields. This is not true in the Western part of our State where each Church has its cemetery. Generation after generation are buried in the same enclosure, and there are always living friends and relatives of the dead who have interest in keeping the grave yard clean and beautiful. It is so fitting, too, for the dead to be buried near the church. A grave yard always reminds one of the certainty of death and often suggests a line of thought highly preparatory to worship. Another advantage is that there will be very many more tombstones placed at the graves of those buried in a common church grave yard than there will be in a little family grave yard. We long to see the custom of burying in the Church Cemetery established in this section of our State.—Christian Leaflet.

"The billows will go over us at times; they are so much greater than we. But they pass as surely as they come, and we look back to see them break in foam and disappear forever, while we are but invigorated by their shock and baptism. 'Thy billows'—they will never be used to drown a human soul.—Ex.

W. K. PIERCE, President.

ALLIANCE LECTURES.

L. F. Livingstone, the great Alliance Leader of Georgia, will address the people of North Carolina at the following times and places:—
Greensboro, Saturday Oct. 4th, Oxford, Monday, Oct. 6th, Raleigh, Tuesday, Oct. 7th, Weldon, Wednesday, Oct. 8th, Goldsboro, Thursday, Oct. 9th. Col. L. L. Polk will be with him at Raleigh, Weldon and Goldsboro.

SPRING HILL ALLIANCE NO. 355.
On the 27th of Sept. 1890 passed the following resolution.
1. That we most heartily endorse the resolutions passed by the Cumberland county Alliance on the 30th Aug. 1890, and published in the Progressive Farmer page 4 No. 33, Vol. 5.
That the Sect'y send a copy of these resolutions to THE CAUCASIAN with request that the Progressive Farmer copy.
J. C. DRAUGHON, Sect'y.

The Farmers' Alliance, if strictly adhered to and its principles properly enforced will eventually restore this government to its fundamental principles as handed to us by the wisest and best law-makers and the purest patriots. C.

Peculiar

Many peculiar points make Hood's Sarsaparilla superior to all other medicines. Peculiar in combination, proportion, and preparation of ingredients. Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses the full curative value of the best known remedies of the vegetable kingdom. Peculiar in its strength and economy. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of its kind which can truly be said to "cure." One Hundred Doses One Dollar. Medicines in larger and smaller bottles require larger doses, and do not produce as good results as Hood's. Peculiar in its medicinal merits. Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes cures hitherto unknown, and has won for itself the title of "The greatest blood purifier ever discovered." Peculiarly its "good name"—there is now a new Hood's Sarsaparilla in Lowell, where more than all other blood purifiers. Peculiar in its phenomenal record of sales abroad. No other preparation has ever attained such popularity in so short a time, and retained its popularity and confidence among all classes of people so steadfastly. Do not be induced to buy other preparations, but be sure to get the Peculiar Medicine.

LOCALS.

—We are glad to learn that Miss Louisa Beaman, who has been quite sick for the past week, is recovering.

—Mrs. M. E. Moore has bought the store of Mr. T. C. Pope, on Main street, now occupied by Capt. D. A. Culbreth.

—There will be a public meeting of the Y. M. C. A. in the Presbyterian Church, in Clinton, at 3 o'clock next Sunday evening.

—Mr. R. C. Holmes has rented the new residence of Mr. D. M. Patrick on Sampson street, and moved his family into it last Tuesday.

—See Hon. B. F. Grady's card in another column explaining why he failed to meet the appointments made for him in Sampson.

—A handsome new fence is taking the place of the old one in front of St. Paul's Episcopal church on Railroad street. The church in St. Paul's is also undergoing repairs.

—Mr. W. G. Rackley received a telegram yesterday announcing the death of his father in Cumberland county. Our sympathies are extended to the bereaved family.

—The town authorities are having the guard house remodeled and enlarged. Those who occasionally take lodging there will find it more roomy and comfortable than heretofore.

—We learn that the protracted meeting which was to commence in the Methodist church of this place on next Sabbath has been postponed. The date will be announced later.

—The Convocation of the Wilmington Diocese of the Episcopal Church meets in St. Paul's Church, in Clinton, on next Tuesday, the 7th, at 10:30 o'clock, a. m.

—"You must register this year if you expect to vote. It doesn't make any difference how many times you have voted before, you won't vote any more until you register again."

—The campaign opened yesterday at Lisbon. On next Saturday it will be discontinued for two weeks owing to the fact that Sampson Court convenes next Monday and holds for two weeks.

—Among the twenty-seven young men who were granted law license on the 27th ultimo were Mr. G. M. Monk, of Sampson, and Mr. J. G. Stokes, of Duplin. Mr. Stokes read law under Mr. F. R. Cooper of the Clinton bar.

—Mr. J. H. Stevens attended the Sam Jones meetings in Wilmington and was favorably impressed with the great revivalist. He says Sam Jones is a team, and he believes he would back his sayings up with his fist if necessary.

—Hon. B. F. Grady passed through town last week en route for Bladen, where he goes to meet his appointments to address the people of that county. He is making a vigorous canvass and will roll up a handsome majority in November.

—Saturday was a live day in Clinton. More than one hundred and forty bales of cotton were sold on this market and our merchants were kept busy. No merchants offer greater bargains than ours will be seen from our advertising columns.

—When you sell your cotton don't forget to drop in and pay THE CAUCASIAN the small subscription you are due. The amount may be small but however small we need it, and will take pleasure in writing receipts for subscriptions from 25 cents up.

—Capt. W. L. Faison, who has recently returned from an extended trip through Western North Carolina and Virginia, remarked the other day that in all his travels he had found no purer air or better climate than we have here in Clinton; and for good water, it may be said no town in the State can beat Clinton.

—THE CAUCASIAN begins this week the publication of "His Fleet-ing Ideal," a composite novel by Bill Nye, Ella Wheeler Wilcox, A. C. Calhoun, Inspector Byrnes, Pauline Hall, Miss Estlake, W. H. Ballou, Neil Nelson, Alan Dale, P. T. Barnum, Howe & Hummel and John L. Sullivan. It is a great story. Subscribe now and read it.

—We are carrying a good number of delinquent subscribers on our books, and on account of bad crops for the past two years have tried to get along without calling on them for money, but crops are better this year and our expenses heavier than ever, so we are forced to ask all in arrears to pay up as promptly as possible. We need the money, or we would not ask you for it.

—Dr. B. F. Marable delivered two fine sermons in Clinton on last Sabbath. The subject of the morning sermon was "Confession." We have heard the Doctor preach deeper and more learned sermons, but never have we heard him preach a sermon that had more preaching in it. It was a sermon that went home to every man, turned his thoughts inward, and put him to thinking and feeling. The sermon at night on "The key to the character of the apostle Paul" showed that the divine discernment with a keen insight the main springs of the actions of men. He has few equals as a delineator of human nature. But the effect of the discourse was to cause many a one present to select points in the progressive character of Paul as a rule of action and a guide to action. Had we the time we would report fully both of these sermons.

—Some men, when for any cause, they personally dislike an editor, forthwith proceed to discontinue the paper. Why do they do this? Do they wish to injure the editor? If that is their object, it is certainly a very unenviable spirit, and then, too, they most signally fail to accomplish their purpose, for when such a spirit among any part of his subscribers becomes known, the paper will be sure to get two new subscribers for every one discontinued. Again to another view of the situation, editors do not consider that subscribers take their papers as personal favors, but because the paper is interesting, gives the news, etc., and that therefore the subscriber is getting value received for his money. The subscribers to THE CAUCASIAN get from it home news that they can get from no other paper and for which they pay less than three cents a week. Now if the paper is worth this much to them they "spite" themselves more than they do when they discontinue it. It is very amusing to hear of a man, who has stopped his paper, borrowing his neighbors to read the news. He highly commends the paper, but how does such a man feel?

Miss Lillie Chesnut.
We regret to hear of the death of this estimable young lady which occurred last Thursday at the home of her father, Capt. O. L. Chesnut, in Adell, Georgia. Miss Chesnut had been spending several weeks with relatives in and near Clinton, and was on her return home when taken sick. Though a young lady of exceptional health and physique, she lasted but a few days, yielding up her promising life to the fatal stroke of typhoid fever. Miss Chesnut leaves a host of relatives and warm friends in this county and with the great sympathy that goes out from them to her bereaved parents and family we join our own.

Died.
Miss Mary Clute, formerly a resident of Clinton, and sister of the late Mr. Giles Clute, died a Magdonia on last Tuesday night. Her remains arrived in town last night and will be interred in Clinton Cemetery this morning at 10 o'clock. Miss Clute was about 53 years of age and a consistent member of the Baptist Church. THE CAUCASIAN extends its sympathies to the bereaved relatives.

Stockholders' Meeting.
The stockholders of the Clinton Loan Association were in annual session yesterday. The old officers were all re-elected with the exception of Mr. Warren Johnson, who was made a Director, Mr. H. E. Faison being elected to succeed him as Vice-President. The President's salary was made $1,000 and the Cashier's $700.

A Card from Mr. Grady.
Editor CAUCASIAN: Please inform the good people of Sampson that the letter of Mr. W. S. Thomson, written September 18th, informing me of the appointments he had made for me to speak in Sampson, did not reach me until too late for me to meet the appointments. I very much regret that the people were disappointed; but I shall endeavor, if I have time, to meet with and talk to your people on my return from canvassing Cumberland, Har-net and Moore. Due notice will be given. Very truly yours,
B. F. GRADY.

To the Democratic Voters of Duplin County.
The Commissioners have ordered a new registration. No one that fails to register by October 25th will be permitted to vote. Let every Democrat register and see that his Democratic neighbors register within the prescribed time.

Personals.

Mr. John E. Lewis, who has been quite sick, is improving.
C. B. Aycock, Esq., of Goldsboro, was in town Tuesday night.
Mrs. H. W. Battle, of New Bern, is visiting her father, Rev. J. L. Stewart.

Mr. D. L. DeVane and wife, of Winston, are visiting relatives in town.

F. P. Jones, Esq., of the Dunn bar and associate editor of the Harnett Courier, was in town on Tuesday night.

Miss Madge Faison, who has been spending the summer in Virginia, at Bedford City and Staunton, has returned.

Miss Hattie Mahn, of Wilmington, who has been visiting friends in Clinton, returned home Tuesday morning.

Rev. Dr. B. F. Marable paid us a pleasant call this week. He tells us that he will move his family to Clinton sometime next week.

Mr. W. S. Thomson ran down to Morehead City to join a fishing party. He says that the trout fishing and blue fish trolling was rare sport.

Messrs. S. G. Worth, of the U. S. Fish Commission, and J. T. Murphy, of the U. S. Treasury Department, have returned to Washington City.

Capt. Wm. A. Johnson left Monday for Philadelphia, New York and other Northern markets, where he will buy a large filling in stock of winter goods.

Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Lane, of Goldsboro; also Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Clute, of Wilmington, were in town last week attending the funeral of Mr. Giles Clute.

The following named persons from Clinton attended the Sam Jones' meetings in Wilmington: Rev. C. P. Jerome, Sheriff J. M. Spell and Messrs. J. H. Stevens, T. C. Pope, O. F. Herring, J. C. Slocomb, R. F. Herring and family, Messrs. L. DeVane, W. T. Williamson and Dr. John A. Stevens.

Mr. W. S. Patrick, of the firm of Moore & Patrick, is returned from Philadelphia and New York, where he purchased the winter stock for their large millinery establishment. He says he will give the ladies pointers on the latest styles and designs.

Hon. E. J. Hill, Ex-United States Consul to Monte Video, gave us a pleasant call recently while visiting friends in the county. One of the professors of Princeton, who was in South America during Cleveland's administration, said that Mr. Hill was one of the best Consular representatives of the United States he had ever seen. Mr. Hill will leave soon for a trip out West.

Church Extension.

The claim of Church Extension on the Wilmington District should be paid in full this year. It is a fund from which many churches have been relieved of immediate strain and some have been enabled to worship in their churches by its friendly help who otherwise could not have done so. The claim is small and should be paid in full but in order to do so every member must feel an interest in the work, and do his part. In any work which is divided into such small parts and left to any church work and the member who will not help according to his ability must surely be remiss in duty. We do hope the Wilmington District will come to the measure of duty and on the plan of every member doing his part. Especially are we interested in the good name of our circuits. The Minutes tell us on every year. Let us see that they tell a good tale hereafter.—The Christian Leader.

Resolutions of Respect.
Bro. J. M. ROBINSON, a member of Clinton Alliance, No. 579, of Sampson county, died at his home on the 8th day of March, 1890, aged about 67 years. Bro. Robinson was a member of the Clinton Alliance, No. 579, where he received severe wounds.

Resolved, That we bow with submission to the will of God, believing that he doeth all things well.

Resolved, That we extend to the bereaved family our sincere condolences, praying that the protecting arms of the loving Saviour may ever be around them and that the hope of a happy reunion with the loved one gone before may serve to mitigate the sorrows of bereavement.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon our Minutes and that a copy of the same be sent to the family.

My Life a Garden.
I was afflicted from infancy with Catarrh and with eruptions on my face for ten years. I was attended by the very best physicians, and tried a number of blood purifiers, without permanent relief. The mineral ingredients settled in my bones, and caused Rheumatic trouble. My life was a burden to me, and my case was declared incurable, when I saw S. S. S. advertised. Eight bottles cured me entirely, and I feel like a new person.

Before and After Using.

At one time I had awful Sores and Pimples on my face, and after using two bottles of S. S. S. I was cured, and now have a nice, smooth complexion.

JAMES L. POYLE,
Atlanta, Georgia.

My Life a Garden.
I was afflicted from infancy with Catarrh and with eruptions on my face for ten years. I was attended by the very best physicians, and tried a number of blood purifiers, without permanent relief. The mineral ingredients settled in my bones, and caused Rheumatic trouble. My life was a burden to me, and my case was declared incurable, when I saw S. S. S. advertised. Eight bottles cured me entirely, and I feel like a new person.

Up to July 15th, the number of appointments for missionary service in connection with the American Board, since the last annual meeting, was just sixty, twenty-two of them men and thirty-eight women.

The increase from last year in the missions of the American Baptist Missionary Society is fifty-two missionaries, forty-two churches and 3,980 members.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy.

GOLDSBORO, N. C., Oct. 23, '89.
Mrs. JOE PERSON—Dear Madam—About April, 1887, I treated Sam Privett for Scrofula affecting the glands of the neck. I had done for him all that could be considered his chances for life very small, and I had him so, and that if you would benefit him with your Remedy, I would give you a certificate of the fact. That you have done your part the boy is now a living witness, and I shall not hesitate to furnish your Remedy in any similar case I may be called upon to treat. I am very truly,

Judge Thayer, of Philadelphia, has rendered a decision that "Kreutzer Sonata" is not an immoral publication.

Among the passengers on the steamer Germanic, which arrived in New York this week, were the Comte d'Artois and party.

John Sowers, said to be the oldest Grand Army veteran in the United States, died near Ringelville, N. J., at the age of 90.

Ex-Commissioner of Pensions Tanner has accepted the managing editorship of the Republic Magazine, a New York Grand Army publication.

Charles J. Elgerly, the husband of Rose Coghlan, the actress, has secured a divorce on the ground of desertion. He lives at Sioux Falls, S. D.

The Trade Journal reports for the third quarter of 1890, 1,114 new enterprises in the Southern States against 774 in the corresponding quarter of 1889.

Governor Campbell, of Ohio, has called upon three members of the board of public works of Cincinnati for their resignations on account of irregularities.

A 3 year old girl named Cooper, visiting John Tyndall, of Moravia, Pa., fell into a pig sty. Two powerful logs attacked her, and mangled her body so badly she died.

How Richard Vanx has been nominated on an independent ticket in the Third district of Pennsylvania in opposition to McAlleer, the regular Democratic nominee.

General Grove, one of Virginia's Warlike Ex-Commissioners, has appointed Miss M. H. Lee, a daughter of General Robert E. Lee, a member of the board of lady managers of the exposition.

A terrible disaster occurred on the Oregon Short Line Railroad near Shoshone, Washington. Two passenger trains came into collision, resulting in the death of over twenty persons, and many injured.

A second horrible murder, much resembling that of Anna Leoney, has taken place near Camden, N. J. The victim was Mrs. John Miller. Suspicion points to Frank Lingo, the negro suspected of the Leoney murder, and he has been placed under arrest.

The latest merchant steamer ever built in Philadelphia was launched from Cramp's shipyard Saturday. The ship is 4,300 tons capacity, is 400 feet long, 48 beam, 33 feet depth of hold, and is to run in the Morgan line between New York and New Orleans. She was christened El Sol.

Foreign Items.

The Italian minister of the treasury has moved for a reduction of 30,000,000 lire in the military and naval estimates.

It is officially and emphatically stated at the City of Mexico that the recent report of an assault upon President Diaz is untrue and without foundation.

Gloomy predictions are made in regard to the food prospects in Ireland. It is stated that over a million of people are in imminent danger of starvation.

The American fishing vessel David Crockett has been seized by the Canadian authorities at Prince Edward Island for alleged violation of the fishing regulations.

Emperor William has declined to entertain the Austrian proposition for combined European retaliation against the United States on account of the McKinley tariff bill.

Mr. Parnell has finally decided that it would be unwise to send any one to America in place of Messrs. O'Brien and Dillon, as they were able to carry out the original plan in any event.

Snakin' advices report the famine in the interior as dire. Thousands are dying of starvation. Caravans are plundered by the desperate natives to obtain food, and the owners are murdered if they resist.

There is great dissatisfaction in Canada over the receipt of a cable dispatch announcing that Lieutenant Colonel Ivor J. C. Herbert, an officer of the British Grenadier Guards, and at present attached to the British legation at St. Petersburg, has been appointed General Sir Fred Middleton's successor in command of the Canadian militia. It was expected that a Canadian officer would receive the appointment.

Labor Notes.
